The Lone Wolf Trail is a 1-mile trail in Anne Arundel County Maryland. The trail is connected to two already existing trails: The Strawberry Lake Way Bicycle Path, and the WB&A Trail. Although the trail is only 1 mile long (technically only .99,) it can be used with the two previously mentioned trails to form a longer trip. The asphalt trail spends almost the entirety of its short route winding through woods, providing users with a bit of a more secluded ride or walk. Since the trail is asphalt, it can be used for a large amount of outdoor activities, including walking, biking, inline skating, and can even be used by those that require a wheelchair.
