Tucker Gulch Trail adds over a mile of trail to Golden's developing trail network. The continues from the north end of the Clear Creek Trail and continues along Tucker Gulch, through residential areas, until Highway 93 where it meets another multi-use path. It's important to note that the trail slopes upwards from the Clear Creek end, along a converted railroad bed, but the good news is that it's all downhill on the way back to the start point.
