Sawmill Bike Path (NJ)

New Jersey

Also known as the Sawmill Trail and the Sawmill Bicycle Trail, this mostly crushed stone path winds through the woods in the trail, there is a side path that leads to Brick Memorial High School and to Herbertsville Park (498 Nebraska Ave), which has a playground, basketball courts, softball field, benches, bike racks, doggie waste stations, and a walking path.

Also known as the Sawmill Trail and the Sawmill Bicycle Trail, this mostly crushed stone path winds through the woods in the Township of Brick. From its southern endpoint at 918 Burnt Tavern Road, it heads north for 1.1 miles until it ends next to the fire academy on Herbertsville Road.

Parts of the route make use of boardwalks and the trail crosses Sawmill Creek via a pedestrian bridge. Most of the route has a surface of crushed stone that sometimes mixes with hard packed clay/dirt and grass. Some cyclists might be more comfortable using a bike suited to slightly rougher terrain, such as a mountain bike.

There are benches, trashcans, and a few covered picnic tables located along the route. About halfway along the
