Tannersville Bike Path (Huckleberry Multi-Use Trail)

New York

For family riding and walking, the Tannersville Bike Path offers a 2.7 mile stretch of graded dirt path starting on Clum Hill Road

Path.

For family riding and walking, the Tannersville Bike Path offers a 2.7 mile stretch of graded dirt path starting on Clum Hill Road directly across from Cortina Valley. The opposite end is on Bloomer Road. In the middle of the path is Tannersville Lake, a village park that is open to the public.

The Bike Path follows the bed of the old Huckleberry Railroad which ran from the Catskill Mountain House west through Stamford. Plans are in the works to extend the Bike Path to the village of Hunter.

For more information, please call the Village of Tannersville at 518-589-5850.

Motorized vehicles please are not allowed on the Bike
