Florida

Palatka-to-Lake Butler State Trail

Florida

Overview Rolling out of the city's west side, the Palatka-to-Lake Butler State Trail offers a slice of quiet paradise, journeying about famed inhabitants, alligators.

Dogs are welcome, but must remain on a handheld leash (six feet or shorter).

Connections

In Keystone Heights, travelers can make a connection to a spur trail to travel 7 miles to Gold Head Branch State Park, which offers a wealth of amenities and recreational opportunities, including camping and an equestrian trail.

On the southern end of the trail, only a 2.5-mile gap stands between it and the Palatka-to-St. Augustine State Trail. Together, with an additional planned 25-mile trail between Lake Butler and Lake City, these trails will form the developing 101-mile Lake City-to-St. Augustine Rail Trail.

Trail History

The Palatka-to-Lake Butler State Trail follows the former Norfolk-Southern Railroad right-of-way.
