The Robert McCollum Memorial Bicycle Trail, also known as the Trabuco Creek Trail (East Bank), is a short paved path along Trabuco Creek in San Juan Capistrano. The trail begins at a junction with the San Juan Creek Trail in Descanso Park—located directly behind City Hall—and runs north to its end at Avenida de la Vista.

Along the way, the trail passes under Del Obispo Street and adjacent to scenic Los Rios Park, one of the newest parks in San Juan Capistrano. Equestrian users, hikers and mountain bikers should consider extending their journey on the Trabuco Creek Trail (West Bank), which is rustic and unpaved but extends farther north along the creek.

Parking & Trail Access

Parking for the Robert McCollum Memorial Bicycle Trail is available at Los Rios Park on Paseo Adelanto. To reach the park from Interstate 5, take Exit 82 onto Ortega Highway (State Route 74) into San Juan Capistrano. Shortly thereafter, turn left onto Del Obispo Street and follow it westward to Paseo Adelanto. Turn right on Paseo Adelanto just before the bridge over Trabuco Creek. The entrance of the park will be on the right in less than 0.25 mile.

Note that a fence separates the trail, which is directly across Paseo Adelanto from Los Rios Park, from the road and parking lot. To reach the trail, ride or walk north on Paseo Adelanto a short distance to the closest access point where the road meets Ramos Street.
