MoPac Trail (Springfield)

Nebraska

Overview The MoPac Trail in Springfield is a 13.2-mile trail that traverses an old Missouri Pacific (hence "MoPac") railroad line.

The trail passes right through the heart of Springfield, which offers modest retail and dining options. The trail here also passes the Sarpy County Fairgrounds.

The remainder of the route passes through open farm country, with little development, as it meanders south. The southern endpoint of the trail is located just before reaching the Platte River, although trail users can choose to continue across the river.

Connections

At the trail's southern end, it continues as the Platte River Connection.

The MoPac Trail (Springfield) is part of the Great American Rail Trail, a 3,700-mile route from Washington to Washington D.C.
