Guemes Channel Trail will link downtown Anacortes, the Tommy Thompson Trail, and the San Juan Ferry. Both trails offer shoreline routes along old rail corridors.

The Guemes Channel Trail is currently built in two segments, beginning from the cul-de-sac at the end of Ship Harbor Boulevard. A short gravel trail heads west from there towards the ferry docks with scenic beach overlooks. A future phase will bring the trail further west to Washington Park. The eastern portion is a broad blacktop trail quite close to the water that heads towards town.
