Blackberry Trail follows a stretch of Blackberry Creek in Montgomery, Illinois for 1.7 miles. The trail is best accessible from the forest preserve entrance at Caliendo Circle.

About the Route

The actual southern endpoint of the trail is located around S Concord Dr. Heading north, the trail passes the Blueberry Trail Park and reaches Mayfield Road via a pedestrian bridge over the creek. A little west of that, on Orchard Road, trail users can find restaurants and stores. The trail's surroundings are dominated by native prairie and wetlands and is a great place for bird spotting.
