The Frankford Creek Greenway, which opened in 2018, offers a 1.2-mile paved pathway, running from Aramingo Avenue and Wheatsheaf Lane to Delaware Avenue and Lewis Street.

At its southern end, it connects to the Port Richmond Trail and, at its northern end, there are plans to connect it to the Tacony Creek Greenway. All three trails are part of The Circuit Trails, a vast network of connecting trails in the Greater Philadelphia region.
