white-tailed deer and diverse birdlife including ospreys, kestrels, and bluebirds. South of County Road I in Arden Hills the trail loops around Rice Creek.

While in the park, visitors can also engage in activities ranging from picnics, canoeing, and kayaking. Canine companions can also get in on the action: there is an off-leash dog park off Lexington Avenue.

Connections

At Lexington Ave. NE, the trail meets the East Anoka County Regional Trail.

At the southern end of the trail, the Rice Creek North Regional Trail meets the Rice Creek West Regional Trail.

The Rice Creek North Regional Trail serves multiple purposes: it's a connector, running through the two counties (Anoka and Ramsey) and five cities: Lino Lakes, Circle Pines, Blaine, Shoreview, and Arden Hills. It is a space for safe non-motorized travel as well as active recreation.

About the Route

Additionally, the trail is a celebration of nature: beginning with the stand of pine trees that line its north entrance. The trail begins in the Rice Creek Chain of Lakes Regional Park, where it threads deftly between the big water bodies. In just 13 miles, users can walk, jog, and bike through restored prairies, mesic woodlands, and riparian marsh. The Rice Creek corridor is also home to wildlife such as
