The paved bicycle and pedestrian trail accompanies Moccasin Creek between Milwaukee Ave. and Melgaard Rd in Aberdeen, South Dakota, the state's third city. The trail is perfect for recreation sitting right on the river banks and providing access to some of the city's other recreational facilities including Moccasin Creek Softball and Soccer Complex, which hosts countless summer soccer tournaments; Aberdeen Aquatic Center; and Anderson Park. The trail offers views of the water, plus there are bridges across the creek that can double as overlooks. The scenery is full of greenery, with lots of open fields and clumps of coniferous trees planted next to the path.
