Spring Creek Trail (OK)

Oklahoma

The Spring Creek Trail provides a dose of natural beauty and tranquility just off the busy interstates that run through the

Just before the trail reaches N Midwest Blvd, a short roundabout located in the park, the trail forks in two, with one branch heading north toward parking and the other heading south towards E 15th St. near Oakwood Cemetery.

The off-road section of trail ends here but shared road sections of trail can take trail users further into the park, south toward Scissortail Campground, or east toward Spring Creek Swim Beach.

The Spring Creek Trail provides a dose of natural beauty and tranquility just off the busy interstates that run through the suburban community of Edmond, Oklahoma. It stretches 2.5 miles from end to end. Trail users can take advantage of the path as part of a trip to Spring Creek Park to enjoy fishing, picnicking, swimming, and other outdoor activities.

About the Route

The westernmost endpoint of the trail is located just east of Interstate 35. East of here, the trail heads under the highway and meanders through wooded terrain. The trail remains like this as it heads into Spring Creek Park, which lies along the shores of Arcadia Lake.
