The Downtown Greenway, a collaborative project of Action Greensboro and the City of Greensboro, is a 4-mile walking and biking trail that encourages economic development, improves quality of life for its residents, and tells community stories through public art. This paved multi-use trail defines downtown Greensboro, North Carolina and serves as the hub of the 100+ miles trail system. The trail includes urban areas that travel along roadsides with landscape buffers as well as park like settings. The trail is suitable for walking, biking, jogging, dog-walking, and rollerblading and connects residential and commercial areas.
