The East Bank Path sits, as its name suggests, on the east shoreline of Grand Lake St. Marys, a whopping 13,500 acre man-made reservoir that is Ohio's largest. The trail travels 1.4 miles south from Parkway Drive, paralleling State Park Road and State Route 384. It's paved and suitable for a range of uses including biking, walking and inline skating. Trail users can enjoy uninterrupted views of the lake as they travel the path. The East Bank Path is contained within the Grand Lake St. Marys State Park. Across the lake, visitors can also use the West Bank Trail.
