Walk, run or roll; the Nancy Branch Greenway invites you to go at your own pace. The trail is flat and paved, making it easy enough for even the youngest members of the family to enjoy. Sandwiched between nicely-landscaped neighborhoods and the lush bank of the creek, the trail allows you to be in nature without feeling isolated.

The trail begins on Yates Store Road and heads east broadly following the course of Nancy Branch. There is one major crossing at Green Level Church Road. The greenway then terminates along Hortons Creek Road. Benches placed at intervals invite users to sit, rest or just enjoy being outside.

Thanks to its greenways, the Town of Cary has been designated a silver-level Walk Friendly Community.
