The C.R Roberts Memorial Trail in Dysart picks up right on the western end of the Old Creamery Nature Trail which travels all the way to Vinton via Garrison. Unlike the latter trail, this trail is paved from end to end, about one mile in length. The trail begins on Y Avenue, at the trailhead shared by the C.R. Roberts trail and the Old Creamery Nature Trail. Where the Old Creamery Trail heads east, this one continues west to Farm Road, nestled between rows of houses and farm buildings. There trail sits in the grassy corridor also occupied by power transmission lines.

From the trail, it's easy to access the many businesses on Main Street.
