A short, but pleasant neighborhood trail, the By-Gully Bike and Jogging Path offers over a mile of paved trail for walking, jogging, and cycling in a residential area of Springfield. Nearby residents can enjoy a variety of activities along the trail, including dog-walking and bird-watching, as the trail runs adjacent to a narrow, tree-lined gully alongside a busy highway. The trail helps to provide a bit of a natural buffer for the neighborhoods along the highway, and also helps connect the area to downtown Springfield and the rest of the area's trail network, via its connection to the Rosa Parks Path on the eastern end.
