Blunn Trail forms a link between two of Arvada's most popular trails: Ralston Creek Trail and Van Bibber Creek Trail.

The north end of the trail is at Ralston Creek Trail on the west side of Virgil Way. The trail heads south, accompanied by a soft surface equestrian path that traces the perimeter of Bird's Nest Disc Park. It then peels away from Virgil Way and the residential subdivisions along it to cross W.64th Avenue via an underpass. This brings it to Long Lake Regional Park, where it runs along the edge of the soccer complex. Its meeting point with the Van Bibber Creek Trail marks the end of this trail.
