The Lenape Trail is an paved multiuse pathway stretching two miles end-to-end. The winding trail sits on the tree-covered bank of Plainsboro pond, home to geese, swans and other waterfowl. Residents take advantage of the trail for fun and fitness with their families, as well as walk their dogs - in fact, there is a dog park located along the trail. For office workers in the buildings nearby, it's a chance for a change of scenery and immerse oneself in nature in the middle of the workday.
