The Batchelder Trail is a local walking and biking path in Faribault, Minnesota, a city south of the Minneapolis-St. Paul metro. The asphalt trail starts on Park Avenue and winds behind a residential development, with short spurs reaching into the neighborhood and inviting neighbors onto the trail. The trail ends on 20th and Lyndale Avenue, across from which is the Faribault segment of the Mill Towns State Trail, which you can use to either continue south, or loop north back to your starting point.
