Located in the low-lying woodlands in along Wolf Creek, this trail picks up across 11th Street from Todd Park and its paved bike trail. The trail winds through the riparian forests on lands once owned by the Hormel Foods company, makers of SPAM tinned meat. The trail skirts the edge of its corporate campus and the neighboring residences, and enters Wildwood Park, terminating at 16th Avenue NE.

Trail users wanting to extend their trip can continue east and south along the Todd Park Bike Trail for another two miles, and even connect to Mill Pond Park or East Lake Park from there.
