The multiuse trail sits on both sides of busy State Bridge Road in Johns Creek, north Fulton County. Running between Kimball Bridge and Medlock Bridge roads, the trail consists of a wide, concrete sidewalk, suitable for both cyclists and pedestrians who want to get out of the nearby subdivisions for some exercise, or are looking to connect to the various businesses and restaurants along State Bridge without the need to drive. At the south end, the trail intersects with the Johns Creek Greenway, which extends north and south along Medlock Bridge Road.
