The Johns Creek Greenway is a multi-use path along the west side of Medlock Bridge Road, one of Johns Creek's busiest roads. The greenway consists of wide concrete sidewalk built to accommodate cyclists, walkers and other non-motorized users. The trail begins on Old Alabama Road and winds its way north via Medlock Crossing Parkway to State Bridge Road, where it intersects with another multi-use path along that road. Crossing State Bridge Road, the trail skirts the perimeter of Johns Creek High School's athletic fields, before emerging on Medlock Bridge Road, which it follows up to Findley Road. Lots of businesses are located along this road, from local shops to national chains, so the path serves as a way to reach those places and run some errands while still getting your steps in.
