The Los Alamos Mesa Trail is a paved hike-and-bike trail located along the south rim of the Pueblo Canyon in Los Alamos, New Mexico. The trailhead is at East Park, a 4-acre park which also offers other recreation amenities appealing to the whole family including picnic tables and a pavilion, a dog park and a playground for young visitors. While the trail itself is short, it forms a part of the Canyon Rim Loop, which also includes the Pueblo Rim Canyon Trail, a singletrack dirt trail continuing from the east endpoint of the Mesa Trail; and the Canyon Rim Trail, a paved trail which can be accessed across East Road from the East Park trailhead.
