Tucked into the northwest corner of Arkansas is Benton County, home to the City of Rogers and its growing network of trails and greenways. The Mountie Trail, though relatively short, acts as a connector. On the west side, it connects to the Blossom Way Trail, which links up to the popular Razorback Regional Greenway, while on the east side, it links up with the War Horse Trail, part of the Rogers greenway system. The trail, a concrete sidepath mostly paralleling West Price Lane, also provides access to several schools along its path.
