The Perry Road Trail is part of Rogers' greenway and trail system, which will be over 60 miles when complete. The trail sits on the north side of the street and connects residents to the big box shopping in downtown Rogers. The paved trail is open to walkers, joggers, cyclists and other non-motorized uses. From the west end, users can use the sidewalk of Bellview Road to head south and connect to the multiuse trail along that road, which eventually leads to the Razorback Greenway and the Blossom Way Trail.
