La Porte's hike-and-bike trail system offers more than 13 miles to explore. The main spine of the trail runs parallel to Fairmont Parkway from the west side of the city to Galveston Bay, with spurs jutting north and south from the main route. The wide concrete trail provides ample room for cyclists, walkers, the old and the young to share. The trail also connects to several local parks, including Sylvan Beach and the Little Cedar Bayou Trail. The latter trail is a highlight of the route, and features sports and picnic amenities, a playground, a wave pool and a dog park. There is also a nature trail that can be accessed from the park, that leads to two birding platforms offering panoramic views of the bay.
