This shared-use path in Starkville stretches from McKee Park in the west to Montgomery Street in the east. While providing a space for leisure or exercise, the concrete pathway also allows residents to travel safely via bike or on foot to schools and recreational areas like the Starkville Sportsplex. The path is 10-foot wide with two lanes of travel. It parallels Lynn Lane for over a mile, reaching Montgomery Street, where the Locksley Way Multi-Use Path allows cyclists and pedestrians to continue east onto the campus of Mississippi State University.
