Champlain Canalway Trail: Waterford New York

The Waterford segment of the Champlain Canalway Trail begins on the Mohawk River at the Old Champlain Canal Lock 4 and Visitor Center (1 Tugboat Alley,). This short spur connects with the Black Bridge Trail (part of the Empire State Trail) at the corner of Second Street and Front Street. The trail will be extended north of Upper Newtown Rd as far as Mechanicville (and a connection with the Zim Smith Mid-County Trail) with grading.

The Waterford segment of the Champlain Canalway Trail begins on the Mohawk River at the Old Champlain Canal Lock 4 and continues north following the old canal towpath past Lock 7 to Upper Newtown Road on the line between Halfmoon and Mechanicville.

The southernmost section, south of the Erie Canal Lock 2, is currently in bad shape and desperately in need of maintenance. The section north of Lock E2 is in much better shape having been resurfaced in October 2021 as far as Lock 5, along with the opening of the section between Lock 5 and Upper Newtown Road.

The trail crosses the Erie Canal in downtown Waterford. The trail splits and a short section runs south along the east side of the canal and passes the Waterford Harbor
