runs between Franklin and Tilton.

The Village Spur Rail Trail begins in downtown Belmont, and stretches from behind the Belmont Mill to the Tioga River on the west side of South Road. Out and back for the entire trail is about four miles. On your way you'll encounter two covered bridges: the first is located at the Slippery Rock crossing on the Tioga River. The second is found west of Great Brook Village. Approaching South Road, the trail passes through pasture, so riders should keep to the path and have their pets leashed to avoid disturbing the cattle.

The Belmont Village Spur provided service to Belmont Village for four decades before being shuttered in 1929. The trail that sits atop this corridor is a reminder of the region's past, and there are plans to connect to another historic rail-trail, the Winnepesaukee River Trail, which
