This multiuse path skirts the south shore of East Lake Tohopekaliga (fondly known as East Lake Toho) in St. Cloud, Florida. The trail is paved, and stretches about 2 miles point-to-point, paralleling Lakeshore Boulevard. Benches are provided along the trail. A stroll or bike ride along the shared-use path is just one of the many activities visitors will find to occupy their time while visiting Lakefront Park - other amenities include a sandy beach, beach volleyball, marina, fishing pier, and a playground and splash pad for the tots. While the park is relatively safe, there have been alligator sightings in the marsh along the lake's south shore. Follow the safety advice provided on the lake's official website.
