Also known as the "Blue and White Trails," this trail actually encompasses two shorter paths that intersect near Corl Street on the campus of Penn State University. Part of a developing off-road trail network in State College, this route meanders through and around Penn State University golf course for most of the route.

The trail connects the Penn State University main campus with the west side of downtown State College. As the route parallels Atherton Street and West Park Avenue, the trail surface is asphalt. The trail surface is crushed stone as it parallels Corl Street and West College Avenue.

At its northern end, the trail connects to the Tudek/Circleville Bikeway.
