Montaña de Oro Bluff Trail

California

Located in Montaña de Oro State Park, the Bluff Trail is a scenic 4.1-mile loop with gorgeous views of the ocean and surrounding

Short spur trails offer access to tidepools and beaches. There are many great picnic spots and benches are placed along the route. Montaña de Oro State Park is free and open to the public with no entrance fee. Stop by the Visitor's Center to pick up a map of the park.

Named "Mountain of Gold" after the golden wildflowers that bloom during the spring, the Montaña de Oro State Park has lots to explore, including mountain biking and equestrian trails. With its rugged cliffs, marine terrace bluffs, secluded sandy beaches, coastal plains, streams, canyons, and rolling hills, the park is a perfect place to enjoy California's natural beauty.

Located in Montaña de Oro State Park, the Bluff Trail is a scenic 4.1-mile loop with gorgeous views of the ocean and surrounding landscape. Hugging the coastline, the trail heads along the bluffs for about 2 miles. To return, it is possible to retrace your steps at any point or take a slightly shorter in-land trail at the ravine junction just south of Corallina Cove.

Wildflowers are abundant during the warmer seasons and there is always a variety of wildlife to observe. Open year-round, the trail is popular with families, joggers, bicyclists, and bird-watching enthusiasts. The wide gravel path stays quite flat and is fully ADA accessible. About a mile-and-a-half down the trail at Quarry Cove, there is an accessible picnic table right next to the trail.
