

2026

TrailLink Unlimited

Guides

Creek Walk Connector

Georgia

Creek Walk Connector

Georgia

Running underneath the I-85/GA-400 overpass, the Creek Walk Connector provides a link between the Confluence Trail, the Running underneath the I-85/GA-400 overpass, the Creek Walk Connector provides a link between the Confluence Trail, the PATH400 Greenway Trail, and the Cheshire Farm Trail. The paved trail is smooth and wide, making it navigable for families with strollers and those using mobility devices.

From its connection with Confluence Trail, the trail winds northeast under the overpass to connect with the Cheshire Farm Trail on Lindbergh Drive.

Creek Walk Connector

Georgia

States: Georgia

Counties: Fulton

Length: 0.4miles

Trail end points: Confluence Trail & Adina Dr
NE to Cheshire Farm Trail & Lindbergh Dr NE
(Atlanta)

Trail surfaces: Concrete

Trail category: Greenway/Non-RT

Trail activities: Bike,Inline

Skating, Walking, Wheelchair Accessible

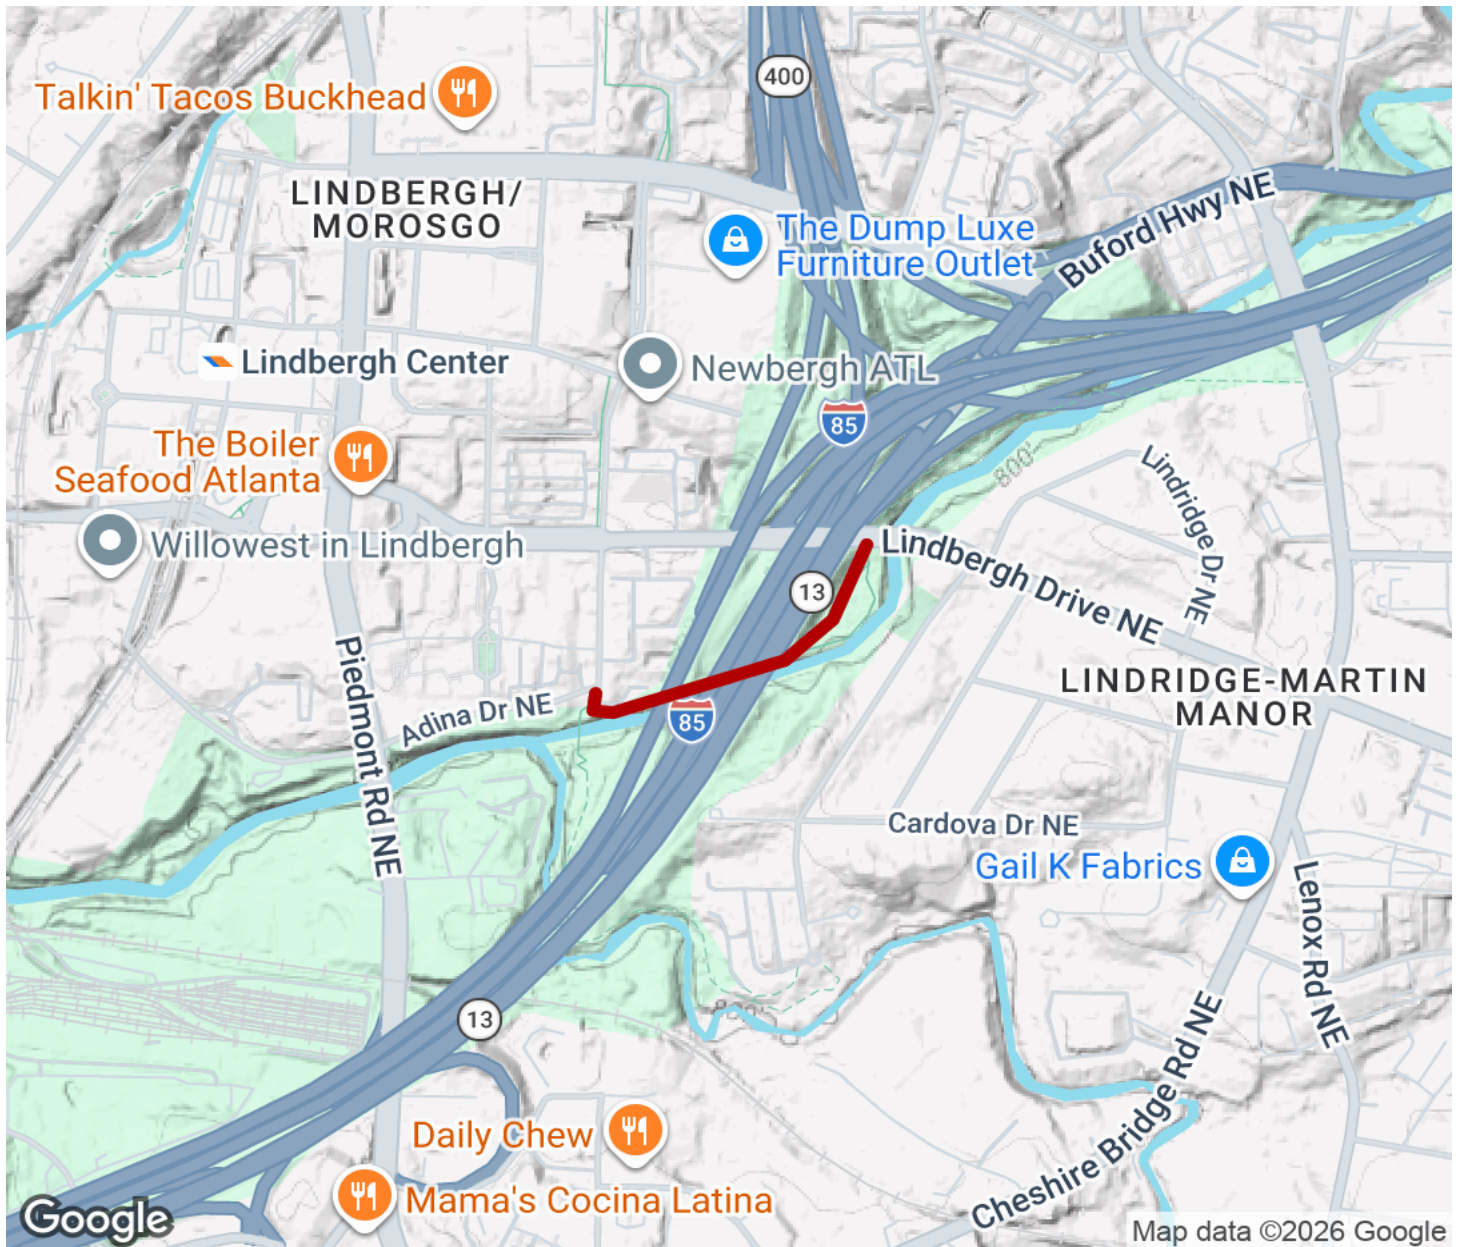

Parking & Trail Access

Atlanta's public transit system provides access via several bus stops near both ends of the trail. Refer to the MARTA website for more information.

Creek Walk Connector

Georgia

- Trailhead
- Restroom
- Parking
- Water Fountain
- Tunnel