Midtown Linear Park

New York

Following the former Ulster & Delaware Railroad (U&D) corridor, the Midtown Linear Park is part of the Kingston

Ulster & Delaware corridor running between Highmount to Belleayre Beach in Shandaken to a multiuse trail with pedestrian bridges.

Following the former Ulster & Delaware Railroad (U&D) corridor, the Midtown Linear Park is part of the Kingston Greenline. Running through Midtown between Westbrook Lane and Cornell Street, the ADA compliant trail is 12-foot wide and paved. Dogs on leashes are welcome.

For the surrounding communities, the trail offers a safe and efficient route for cyclists and pedestrians to access local businesses, schools, and other amenities. The trail also serves as a vital non-motorized transportation link between Midtown Kingston and the Kingston Plaza, which includes a major supermarket and an Ulster County bus transit hub.
