

2026

TrailLink Unlimited

Guides

Fremont Pass Recreational Pathway

Colorado

Fremont Pass Recreational Pathway

Colorado

The Fremont Pass Recreational Pathway travels 3.23 miles alongside CO-91 nestled between the outdoor recreation hubs of Climax Mine Rd.

This trail along with its neighboring Ten Mile Canyon Recpath not only provides scenic views but connects trail users to the skiing town of Copper Mountain and further north, Frisco.

Connections

At the trail's northern end, the route continues as the Ten Mile Canyon Recpath.

The Fremont Pass Recreational Pathway travels 3.23 miles alongside CO-91 nestled between the outdoor recreation hubs of Copper Mountain and Breckenridge, Colorado.

About the Route

Both the Fremont Pass Recreational Pathway and the Ten Mile Canyon Recpath leave off from the Far East Lot, a free parking lot with shuttles to Copper Mountain.

The Fremont Pass trail heads south from here where it winds alongside Ten Mile Creek for most of its route. The wide, paved trail never strays too far from CO-31 and crosses the highway about half a mile from the trail's southern endpoint along a wide trail bridge. The trail reaches its southern endpoint just after this bridge along

Fremont Pass Recreational Pathway

Colorado

States: Colorado

Counties: Summit

Length: 3.23miles

Trail end points: Far East Lot (Frisco) to Climax Mine Rd. (Frisco)

Trail surfaces: Asphalt

Trail category: Greenway/Non-RT

Trail activities: Bike, Walking, Wheelchair Accessible, Cross Country Skiing

Parking & Trail Access

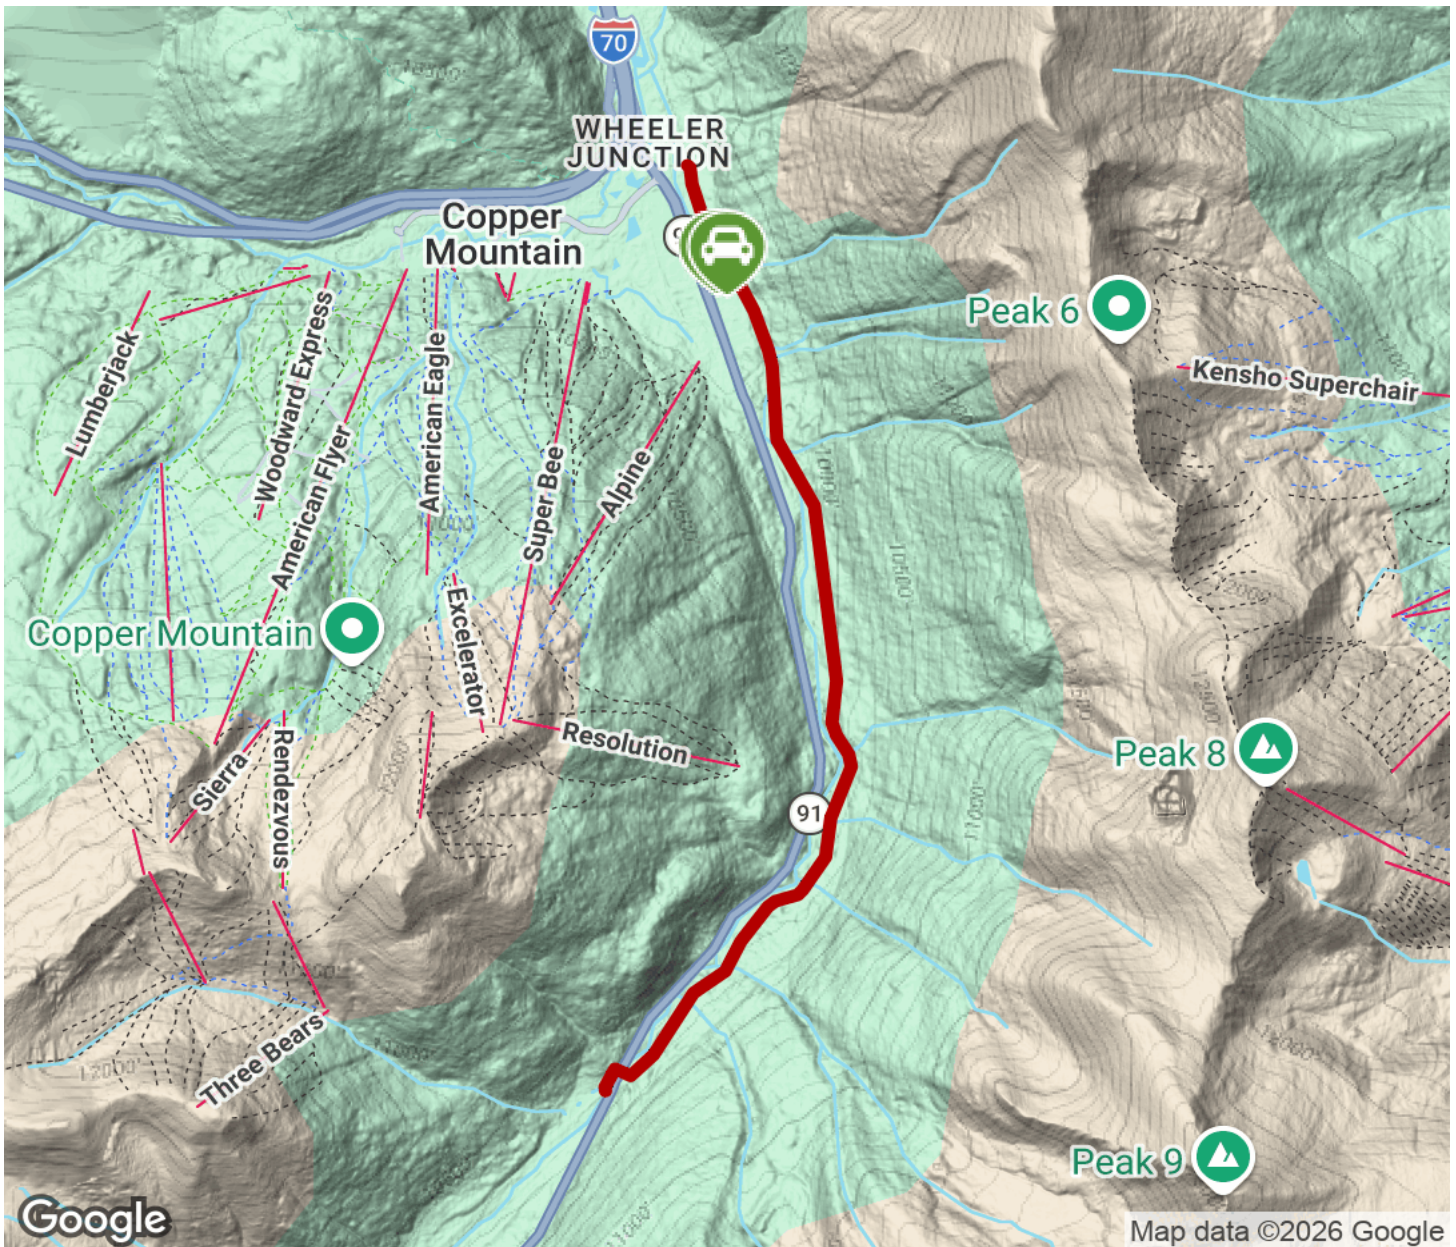

The Fremont Pass Recreational Pathway runs between Far East Lot (Frisco) and Climax Mine Rd. (Frisco), with parking available at the northern end.

These are approximate addresses, please see TrailLink Map for more detailed directions.

Fremont Pass Recreational Pathway

Colorado

Trailhead

Restroom

Parking

Water Fountain

Tunnel

TrailLink
by Rails-to-Trails Conservancy

TrailLink.com