Grange Hall Creek Trail

Colorado

Overview The Grange Hall Creek Trail carries trail users across Thornton, Colorado, located just north of Denver for 6.72 miles. The Park and Carpenter Park, the latter of which offers an amphitheater, boathouse, skate park, and much more.

After Carpenter Park, the trail verges slightly south as it continues east and meanders alongside the Colorado Agricultural Canal. There are many intersecting concrete paths here, so trail users should watch out for wayfinding signage that points the users in the correct direction towards Riverdale Rd.

The southernmost section of the trail heads east and then south, passing E 100th Ave. and then all the way south until reaching the Platte River Trail, along which trail users can continue their journey.

Connections

At the trail's northern end, it connects to the Farmer's High Line Canal Trail.

At the trail's southern end, trail users can continue along the Platte River Trail.
