

2026

TrailLink Unlimited

Guides

Riley Ranch
Nature
Reserve Trails
Oregon

Riley Ranch Nature Reserve Trails

Oregon

The Riley Ranch Nature Reserve is an 184-acre reserve comprised of former ranch land. There are three trails in the preserve which

The Riley Ranch Nature Reserve is an 184-acre reserve comprised of former ranch land. There are three trails in the preserve which are available for exploration.

The Juniper and Sage Flats Loop form a flat and easy walking route that total 1.5 miles of compact gravel trail.

The Robin's Run Trail is much steeper, and cuts through the canyon forests using steep switchbacks. It is 1.25 miles long.

The Riley Ranch Trail connects trail users to nearby Tumalo State Park. It is 1.3 miles long.

Sections of trail within the the reserve do not allow biking and posted signs will alert trail users to this.

TrailLink
by Rails-to-Trails Conservancy

TrailLink.com

Riley Ranch Nature Reserve Trails

Oregon

States: Oregon

Counties: Deschutes

Length: 3.2miles

Trail end points: Riley Ranch Nature Reserve to Riley Ranch Nature Reserve

Trail surfaces: Crushed Stone,Dirt,Gravel

Trail category: Greenway/Non-RT

Trail activities: Bike,Mountain
Biking,Walking

Parking & Trail Access

Trail access and parking is available at 19975 Glen Vista Rd.
(Bend)

Please see TrailLink Map for detailed directions.