

2026

TrailLink Unlimited

Guides

Seed Orchard Road Trail

Virginia

Seed Orchard Road Trail

Virginia

The Seed Orchard Road Trail is a 1.2-mile trail that runs through Grayson Highlands State Park. The trail is comprised of thick

The Seed Orchard Road Trail is a 1.2-mile trail that runs through Grayson Highlands State Park. The trail is comprised of thick gravel and is best suited for mountain biking, in addition to hiking.

The trail leaves from the park's campground at its southern end and runs north until becoming the Wilson Creek Trail. The trail is also just short of the Appalachian Trail.

Near the trail's midpoint, Seed Orchard Road joins the 3.1-mile Upchurch Road Trail, allowing for a longer trip.

Seed Orchard Road Trail

Virginia

States: Virginia

Counties: Grayson

Length: 1.2miles

Trail end points: Wilson Creek Trail to Hickory Ridge Campground

Trail surfaces: Gravel

Trail category: Canal

Trail activities: Horseback Riding, Mountain
Biking, Walking

Parking & Trail Access

Parking for the Seed Orchard Road Trail is available near the park's visitor center, which is a short distance away from the trail.