The Valkommen Trail runs for 2.5 miles along an abandoned section of the old Missouri-Pacific and Union Pacific rail beds. The total trail mileage is 4.1 miles.

About the Route

The Valkommen Trail features a renovated railroad bridge and is a popular trail for families. The Valkommen Trail extends between Bethany College campus in the north and Old Mill Campground in the south, with a loop that extends through Riverside Park.

Trail highlights include a stop by the Erickson Brothers Workshop, a historical site that interprets the history of the brothers who invented the dial telephone. Also at the park, trail users can find the 1904 World's Fair Swedish Pavilion. Toward the north end of the trail is a skate park.

Connections

At the southern end of the trail, trail users can connect to the Meadowlark Trail.
