The Stadium Drive Bike Trail begins on the Florida State University campus near Varsity Drive and Stadium Drive (SR 366) and travels north and west 2 miles to N. Ocala Road, just south of US 90/SR 20/10 (Tennessee Street).

The trail follows part of the Tallahassee-St. Marks Historic Railroad corridor, which used to stretch Bainbridge, Georgia. Since the 1990s, when the multi-use trail was first developed, the trail has seen many improvements, including safety call boxes for trail users, many of which are FSU students who use the trail after dark.

The trail passes through part of the FSU campus and residential areas and includes a tunnel under Stadium Drive for easy crossing of this busy thoroughfare.
