Closure notice: Starting August 2024, a resurfacing project is underway along portions of the Withlacoochee State Trail. Sections of the trail will temporarily close when necessary. Please follow all posted signage and avoid closed areas. Please refer to the Florida State Parks website for more information.

The 46-mile Withlacoochee State Trail is a must-do pure Florida experience for any trail enthusiast. Situated just west of Orlando, the trail takes users through suburban neighborhoods, a state forest, and pockets of wilderness throughout.

About the Route

The northern endpoint of the Withlacoochee State Trail is located just off W Shellbark Dr., nestled within a neighborhood. Here, the trail heads south along a wooded corridor nestled in the suburbs. It passes the downtown regions of Hernando and Inverness, which offer several retail and dining establishments.

Just south of Floral City, the trail cuts through the Withlacoochee State Forest and Croom Wildlife Management Area. In the mornings and early evenings, trail users can expect to see deer along this roughly 6-mile stretch. Near the southern boundary of the park, Silver Lake Recreation Area offers year-round camping. The trail continues, lined with trees on both sides until it reaches its southern endpoint just before meeting US 98/SR 50 again.

The Withlacoochee's length, popularity, and proximity to numerous communities have given rise to five trailheads, information kiosks, colorful murals, and convenient parks.

Connections

At the trail's northern endpoint, the trail meets the Dunnellon Trail.

In the Chroom Wildlife Management Area, the trail connects to the Good Neighbor Trail.
