Mesabi Trail

Minnesota

Traversing the incredibly scenic Iron Range region of northern Minnesota, the Mesabi Trail is well on its way to becoming one of even black bears making relatively regular appearances. For history buffs, the trail provides an open window to the past and present mining of the Iron Range as it takes users past constructed mine-pit lakes, old iron ore pits, and still-working iron ore mines.

Because the trail connects with so many towns and tourist attractions, such as the United States Hockey Hall of Fame Museum in Eveleth, Hill Annex Mine State Park near Calumet, and the Forest History Center in Grand Rapids, the Mesabi Trail is also viewed as a way to get from place to place without using a car. All the trail routing through communities is along city streets.

Traversing the incredibly scenic Iron Range region of northern Minnesota, the Mesabi Trail is well on its way to becoming one of the longest rail-trails in the United States. When completed, the pathway will run "from the Mississippi River to the Boundary Waters" on a route between Grand Rapids and Ely. Presently, 135 miles are open for use and fully paved except for a short stretch of less than a mile that is gravel surfaced through the Darwin S. Myers Wildlife Management Area near the town of Embarrass. An additional 10 miles of new trail are anticipated to open in 2021 and another 10 miles in 2022.

The Mesabi Trail provides the opportunity to connect with nature as the trail winds through woods, stream areas, ponds, and lakes. Animal sightings on the trail are common, with deer, raccoons, beavers, eagles, hawks, and
