

2025

TrailLink Unlimited

Guides

Marcia H.
Cloninger
Rail-Trail
North Carolina

Marcia H. Cloninger Rail-Trail

North Carolina

The Marcia H. Cloninger Rail-Trail, known locally as the Lincolnton Rail-Trail, offers a chance to explore the heart of this take in this enchanting town and trail.

The trail was named in memory of the woman who championed its cause and was instrumental in securing funds to build it. It is part of the growing Carolina Thread Trail, a trail network of more than 1,400 miles across North and South Carolina.

The Marcia H. Cloninger Rail-Trail, known locally as the Lincolnton Rail-Trail, offers a chance to explore the heart of this small Southern town, highlighted by a stately courthouse, model Main Street, thriving arts scene, and nearby lakes and mountains. Once an eyesore, the former Norfolk Southern Railroad corridor is now the pride and joy of "Lovable Lincolnton."

The trail begins near Liberty Street and travels past the old railroad depot at Pine and North Poplar streets. As it winds through town, it briefly shares its corridor with an active railroad line. Expect to encounter both locals and visitors out for exercise or on a break from the specialty and antique shops. The smooth, paved trail is especially popular with inline skaters and parents pushing baby strollers. Benches line the route, inviting you to pause and

Marcia H. Cloninger Rail-Trail

North Carolina

States: North Carolina

Counties: Lincoln

Length: 1.7miles

Trail end points: City Park (1000 N Aspen St, Lincolnton) to Motz Avenue Dog Park (492 Motz Ave, Lincolnton)

Trail surfaces: Asphalt

Trail category: Rail-Trail

Trail activities: Bike,Inline
Skating,Fishing,Wheelchair
Accessible,Walking

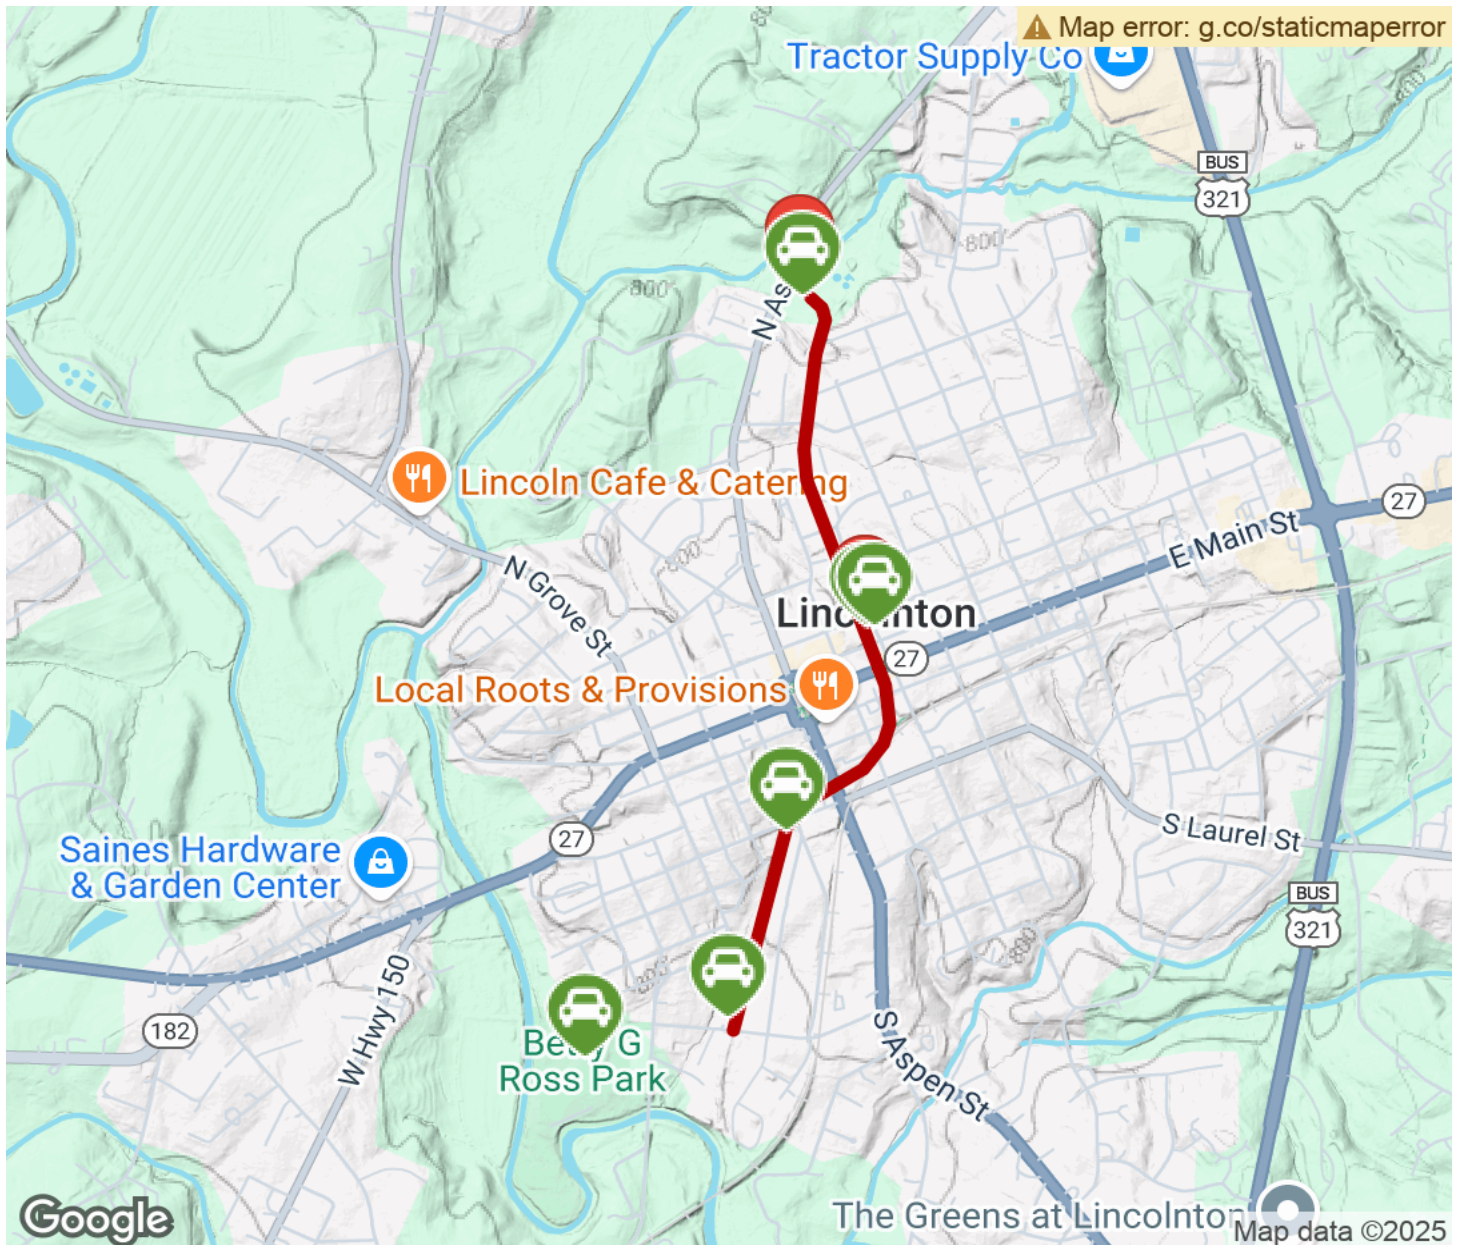

Parking & Trail Access

From Charlotte, take I-85 south to Exit 10 and head north on US Highway 321. Take Exit 24 and follow NC 27/Main Street west into Lincolnton. Turn right on North Poplar Street, and drive one block to the intersection of North Poplar and East Pine. The trailhead is on East Pine, behind the old railroad depot. Street parking is available across from the depot.

Marcia H. Cloninger Rail-Trail

North Carolina

Trailhead

Restroom

Parking

Water Fountain

Tunnel

TrailLink
by Rails-to-Trails Conservancy

TrailLink.com