

2025

TrailLink Unlimited 🔯

Guides 🕫 🤝 😲

Cross Vermont Trail Vermont

The Cross Vermont Trail (CVT) is a statewide route that links a number of Vermont trails and includes on-road sections. As of road links, visit the Cross Vermont Trail Association online. To explore current trails that are part of the Cross Vermont Trail, visit the following TrailLink.com trails:

Island Line Rail Trail

Johnnie Brook Road Trail

Loop Path (Waterbury)

Marshall Avenue Bike Path

Montpelier Recreation Path

Montpelier & Wells River Rail Trail

South Burlington Rec Paths

Williston Village Bike Paths

The Cross Vermont Trail (CVT) is a statewide route that links a number of Vermont trails and includes on-road sections. As of January 2016, 87 miles of trail are built and scattered across the state. Each of these trails are listed below and can be found on TrailLink.com.

Dozens of miles of on-road routes link the disconnected trails. The aim of the CVT Association is to eventually build new trails to replace these on-road routes, making the Cross Vermont Trail entirely off road. The CVT Association invites interested volunteers to help build new trail sections. In particular, they hope to build two bridges atop old railroad abutments, which will open up several miles of new trail.

For a map of the entire route, or by segment including

States: Vermont

Counties: Caledonia, Chittenden, Orange,

Washington Length: 87.4miles

Trail end points: Lake Champlain (Burlington) to Connecticut River (Village of Wells River)

Trail surfaces: Asphalt, Concrete, Crushed

Stone, Dirt, Grass, Gravel Trail category: Rail-Trail

Trail activities: Fishing, Horseback

Riding, Mountain

Parking & Trail Access

Cross Vermont Trail Vermont

