

2025

TrailLink Unlimited

Guides

Yuma
Crossing Bike
Path
(Colorado
River Levee
Multi-Use Path)

Arizona

Yuma Crossing Bike Path (Colorado River Levee Multi-Use Path)

Arizona

The Yuma Crossing Bike Path also goes by the names Colorado River Levee Multi-Use Path and the Colorado River Path. The trail

Yuma was a central transportation hub in the late 1800s and early 1900s. At no other point is the Colorado River easier to cross, so a railroad bridge was built here, and Yuma became a major stop on the route to California. Yuma was also home to one of the most infamous correctional facilities of the Old West, the Yuma Territorial Prison. The town is a wonderful place to explore Western heritage and the trail is a great place to start.

Begin at the Yuma Crossing State Historical Park near the Fourth Avenue Bridge. Along the river, the park features picnic tables, restrooms and a riverfront beach. From here the trail heads west along the unused tracks. About halfway along the trail, you will see a connection to the East Main Canal Bike Path to the south. This trail will take you along the Main Canal 6.5 miles to 40th Street.

As you travel along the path you will be treated to breathtaking views of the surrounding mountains. And, even though this is a desert region, the Colorado River feeds farms in the valley. The trail ends at Joe Henry Memorial Park, a grassy park equipped with picnic areas and ball fields. The park also has restrooms.

The Yuma Crossing Bike Path also goes by the names Colorado River Levee Multi-Use Path and the Colorado River Path. The trail runs for just over 3 miles between S Pacific Avenue and just east of I-8 near Gateway Park and Yuma Beach. It also passes through Joe Henry Memorial Park and the Quartermaster's State Park, traversing an open landscape just south of the Colorado River. The path closely parallels the tracks of the Yuma Valley Railroad, which it crosses three times.

This pleasant trail provides scenic vistas reminiscent of old western films. Located in the southwestern corner of Arizona, on the Mexico border, Yuma has one of the warmest climates in the country, making this trail perfect for a winter getaway.

Yuma Crossing Bike Path (Colorado River Levee Multi-Use Path)

Arizona

States: Arizona

Counties: Yuma

Length: 3.4miles

Trail end points: Yuma Beach (250 Prison Hill Rd, Yuma) to S Pacific Ave (Yuma)

Trail surfaces: Asphalt

Trail category: Rail-Trail

Trail activities: Bike, Inline

Skating, Walking, Wheelchair Accessible

Parking & Trail Access

Parking is available at the Pacific Ave Athletic Complex, but it closes at 11pm. Additional parking is located at along the trail. Visit the TrailLink map for all options and detailed directions.

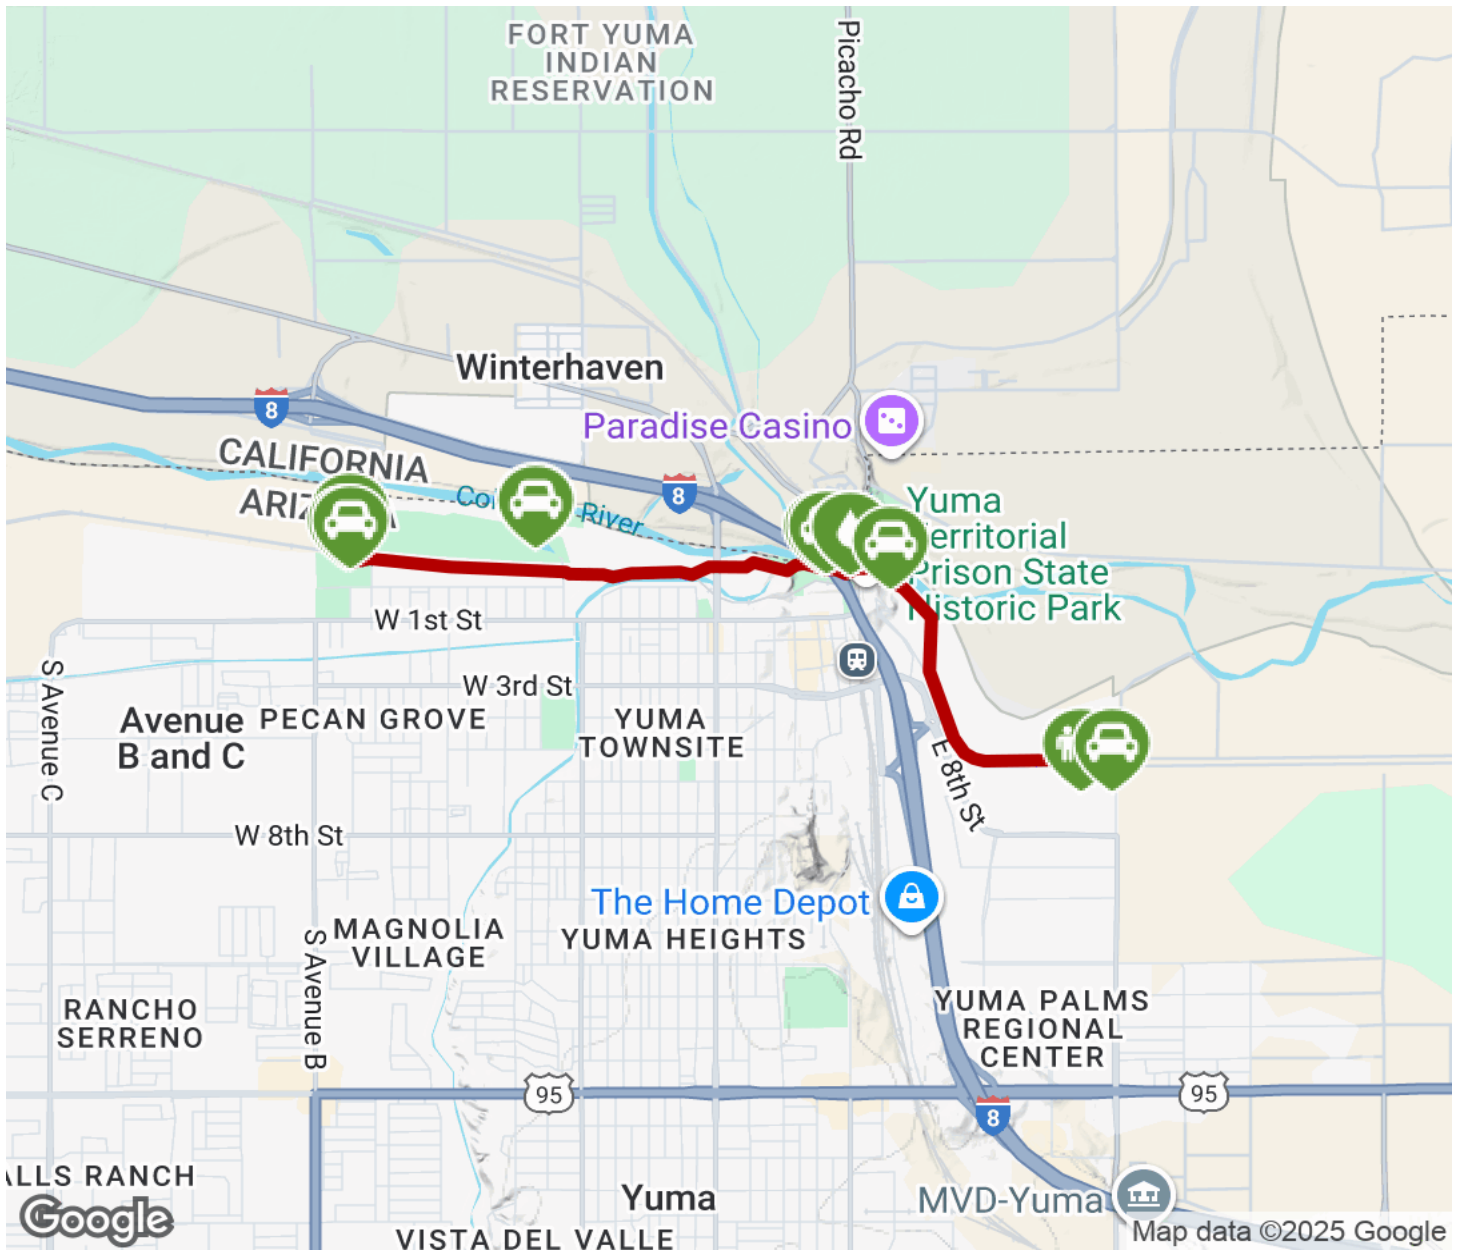

TrailLink
by Rails-to-Trails Conservancy

TrailLink.com

Yuma Crossing Bike Path (Colorado River Levee Multi-Use Path)

Arizona

Trailhead

Restroom

Parking

Water Fountain

Tunnel

TrailLink
by Rails-to-Trails Conservancy

TrailLink.com