The Avon and Catawba Creeks Greenway has several neighborhood entrances in Gastonia. The 1.9-mile trail winds alongside Catawba Creek and Avon Creek with a few small bridges crossings along the way. The greenway is paved for its entire length, and much of it is lined by mature trees on both sides of the trail. Small benches are spaced throughout the greenway and usually come with good views of the creek. There are also numerous informational plaques placed along the trail regarding common bird species that can be found in the area.

The greenway is just one of many which together form the Carolina Thread Trail, a regional network of greenways, trails and blueways across North and South Carolina.
