Bridge to Bay Trail

Michigan

The Bridge to Bay Trail is a diverse trail system of boardwalks, river walks, rail trails and bike paths that extends along 50+ miles

SR29, all the way from the Bree Road endpoint in the south to where the trail picks up again at Yankee Road in the north. Some of the connecting trail links are still under development. Where necessary, there is signage on how to connect to next trail.

The Bridge to Bay Trail passes through the charming towns of Algonac, Marine City, Marysville, St Clair and Port Huron. The trail links neighborhoods, state and local parks, beaches, museums, lighthouses, commercial districts, schools and government centers.

The Bridge to Bay Trail is a diverse trail system of boardwalks, river walks, rail trails and bike paths that extends along 50+ miles of shoreline across St Clair County, Michigan. Heading north, the trails run between Lake St. Clair's Anchor Bay and the City of North Lakeport on Lake Huron.

Following closely to shores of Lake Huron, the north end of Lake St. Clair, and the west bank of the St. Clair River, the trail surface is a mix of boardwalks, asphalt paths, rail-trails, bike lanes, paved shoulders, separated side paths and safety paths. Portions parallel state highways and county roads, while others pass among woodlands and wetlands. Parts of the trail run close along the water's edge, while others travel a few miles inland. There is a 3.4 on-road section of trail in St. Clair that is a signed route on
