

2025

TrailLink Unlimited

Guides

Mary Black Foundation Rail Trail (Palmetto Trail)

South Carolina

Mary Black Foundation Rail Trail (Palmetto Trail)

South Carolina

The Mary Black Foundation Rail Trail is just a short segment of what will eventually become the 12-mile Hub City Connector, which

The Mary Black Foundation Rail Trail is just a short segment of what will eventually become the 12-mile Hub City Connector, which itself will be part of the larger Palmetto Trail, a proposed 425-mile trail across South Carolina.

The paved Mary Black Rail Trail is flat and passes through part of Spartanburg's industrial neighborhood. You can access the trail from some of Spartanburg's community plazas: on East Henry St near Ricky's Drive-In, on Forest Avenue and at Country Club Road. The trail is built on what was once a section the Norfolk Southern rail line. The line was built in 1849 and originally called the Spartanburg-Union Railroad.

Mary Black Foundation Rail Trail (Palmetto Trail)

South Carolina

States: South Carolina

Counties: Spartanburg

Length: 1.9miles

Trail end points: East Henry Street and Union Street to Country Club Road

Trail surfaces: Asphalt

Trail category: Rail-Trail

Trail activities: Bike, Mountain Biking, Inline Skating, Walking, Wheelchair Accessible

Parking & Trail Access

From Exit 21 on I-26 in Spartanburg, drive east on E. O. Ezell Blvd. (US 29) to North Church St. (US 221/SR 56/9). Turn right onto North Church St. then left onto East Henry St. The trail begins at the junction of East Henry St. and Union St.

Mary Black Foundation Rail Trail (Palmetto Trail)

South Carolina

- Trailhead
- Restroom
- Parking
- Water Fountain
- Tunnel